MTC earns part of $285-million contract for US aid to Asia Utah company will evaluate vocational education facilities and curricula in Mongolia

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – November 2, 2007

(CENTERVILLE, Utah) – An international aid compact signed by President Bush last week will directly impact Utah’s fourth largest private employer, Centerville-based Management & Training Corporation. With the stroke of his pen, the President authorized $285-million to be spent in Mongolia. The funding will improve the Asian country’s infrastructure and its ability to provide vocational education opportunities to its 2.8-million citizens.

“The first step in this five year compact is to thoroughly assess the vocational education needs in Mongolia,” said MTC International Business Development Director Jane Marquardt. “That’s where MTC comes in. It’s our job to determine what they are doing well – and what they need to improve – at 35 vocational centers and 40 employment training centers throughout Mongolia. This is a very exciting new venture for our International Division.”

MTC is subcontracting with Washington DC-based Creative Associates International, Inc. to conduct the evaluations. Once this phase of the work is completed, the country of Mongolia will then award bids for the necessary work projects. MTC may also bid on portions of that work, depending on what is needed.

Management & Training Corporation has operated federal Department of Labor Job Corps centers across the United States since it was established in 1981. MTC also began providing contracted management of correctional centers in 1987. The company’s International Division is much newer. MTC has completed contract work in Iraq, Sudan and Tunisia since 2004.

“MTC is quickly earning a very strong reputation in the international arena,” said International Workforce Development Director Jill Elkins. “Our many years dedicated to offering vocational education at Job Corps centers and prisons have allowed us to quickly demonstrate an expertise in these fields throughout the world. We believe there is great growth potential for this newest MTC Division across the globe.”

The $285-million in US aid will be funded through the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC), a United States Government corporation designed to work with some of the world’s poorest countries. Since its creation in 2004, MCC’s mission has been to reduce global poverty through the promotion of sustainable economic growth.

MTC will complete its written assessment of the vocational education needs in Mongolia by March 2008. On-site evaluations will begin at the Asian training sites later this month.

MTC employs 7580 people worldwide, making it Utah’s fourth largest private employer. In Utah, 492 employees work at the corporate headquarters in Centerville and at the MTC-operated Clearfield Job Corps Center.
