MTC Honors top Corrections employees

Annual Celebrating Excellence awards and cash prizes presented to outstanding staff members nationwide

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – June 25, 2007

(CENTERVILLE, Utah) – Utah-based Management & Training Corporation (MTC) – one of the world’s leading private operators of correctional facilities – is proud to honor its top employees each year with the company’s Celebrating Excellence awards. Each honoree receives a certificate of appreciation, trophy and $500.

“We are very pleased with the high quality people we employ at each of our correctional facilities,” said MTC President Scott Marquardt. “It is an honor to celebrate their contributions to MTC’s success each year, through our Celebrating Excellence awards.”

2007 Celebrating Excellence Award Winners

Correctional Officer of the Year – Manuel Garcia – West Texas Intermediate Sanction Facility
Program Services Staff Member of the Year – Tonya Bowser – Lake Erie Correctional Institution
Support Services Staff Member of the Year – Greg Gibson – East Texas Interm. Sanction Facility

In addition to honoring outstanding employees each year, Management & Training Corporation also honors an individual or organization within the community for its outstanding contribution to the correctional facility in its area. In this category the 2007 winner is:

Community Supporter of the Year – Judy Sewell, Henderson Chamber of Commerce
Executive Director – East Texas Intermediate Sanction Facility

Management & Training Corporation operates 12 private correctional facilities in the United States and Australia. MTC is also the leading privately-contracted operator of federal Job Corps centers as well. MTC operates – or partners in the operation of – 25 Job Corps centers.

MTC also presents Celebrating Excellence awards to the top employees in its Job Corps division. Additionally, the company presents $1000 educational awards to three outstanding Job Corps students, through the Celebrating Excellence Scholar of the Year awards.
