WJCC Operator Honors Staff Member

MTC presents Wellness Manager Scott Roy with its annual award

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – August 7, 2006

(CHICOPEE, Massachusetts) – Utah-based Management & Training Corporation (MTC) – operator of the Westover Job Corps Center – has selected center Wellness Manager Scott Roy as its “Support Services Staff Member of the Year.” Roy was nominated for the corporate honor by Westover Center Director Veronica King and Finance & Administration Director Derek Scott.

“We are very pleased with the support services staff members at each of our Job Corps centers,” said MTC President Scott Marquardt. “In Scott Roy’s case, our board of directors feels he deserves our Support Services Staff Member of the Year Award for his tremendous dedication to providing our Westover students with outstanding care. Certainly a big part of our students’ success is due to the quality support services staff members like Scott who positively impact their Job Corps experience.”

In his nominating letter, Mr. Scott said, “Scott Roy has been a true leader in the past year. He has managed the department short-staffed and still maintained a high standard of excellence. The Westover Job Corps Center Wellness Department has enjoyed eight consecutive quarters scoring above the national average on Student Satisfaction Surveys.”

The “Support Services Staff Member of the Year” award is one of eleven honors Management & Training Corporation presents each year, through its “Celebrating Excellence” awards program. Other honorees include students, educators and community partners.

Scott Roy will receive a trophy and a $500 cash award.

In addition to operating – or partnering in the operation of – 25 federal Job Corps centers, MTC also operates 13 correctional facilities in the United States, Canada and Australia.
