Making an impact in people’s lives since 1981

Since 1981, MTC has been teaching and training young people to be prepared for the workforce. This intense and highly successful training is done through the Department of Labor’s Job Corps program. MTC trained more than 11,000 students in 2018 in a variety of fields including healthcare, construction, technology, and business.

How we help people

The MTC impact in 2018:

- 8,204 students placed in quality jobs, higher education, or the military
- 12,960 primary industry-recognized credentials earned by students at MTC Job Corps centers
- 8,207 students earned their high school diploma/equivalency or completed a technical training program in a high-growth industry

“Twenty-two years old and I didn’t have anything going for me; no job, no education, nothing but the clothes on my back. I have made some pretty rash decisions, but this one decision, Job Corps, was my best choice.”

~ Ashley Gillespie, MTC Job Corps Student

“The opportunity to attend Job Corps leaves me peacefully assured I won’t have to worry about my future as I have so many different fields of work to choose from.”

~ Ryan Wagner, MTC Job Corps Student

In 2018, MTC trained thousands of students thanks to a team of dedicated, professional, and talented staff.

- 11,322 students trained at MTC Job Corps centers
- 46,403 hours of community service donated by Job Corps staff and students
- 4,854 staff serving young people at centers across the nation
"I am a huge supporter of what Job Corps does, not only in helping young people become self-sufficient and prepared for the labor market, but also in providing companies like mine with qualified and certified individuals who are ready and eager to fill positions in the workforce."
