

MANAGEMENT & TRAINING CORPORATION TO OPERATE THE ST. LOUIS JOB CORPS CENTER

August 20, 2019

(ST. LOUIS, Missouri) – Management & Training Corporation (MTC), the largest operator of the federal Job Corps program, is pleased to announce it's been awarded a contract to operate the St. Louis Job Corps Center effective October 1, 2019.

MTC Vice President of Education & Training Dean Hoffman said, “Job Corps is needed now more than ever. Four and a half million young Americans are out of work and out of school. And there are more than seven million unfilled jobs in the U.S. Job Corps provides vital career training necessary to help young, at-risk men and women and to keep our economy on the right track.”

The St. Louis center will employ nearly 170 full-time staff and serve 520 students, providing training in a variety of fields including carpentry, cement masonry, culinary arts, building construction, certified nursing assistant, office administration, painting, and pharmacy technician.

“Job Corps provides students with industry-recognized certifications,” adds Hoffman, “that are crucial to obtaining sustainable, long-term careers. Job Corps puts young people on the path to becoming successful, tax-paying citizens.”

Job Corps is a free, federal program administered by the Department of Labor. Those interested in joining Job Corps must be legal residents, 16-24 years, and meet certain income requirements. Once in the program, students can earn their high school diploma or an equivalency and earn industry-recognized certifications in a wide variety of trades. With these credentials, students are placed in quality jobs. There are 125 Job Corps centers throughout the country. Anyone interested in joining Job Corps may call 800-733-JOBS (5627).
