Providing Comprehensive Labor Market-Driven Workforce Training Worldwide

The need for market-based workforce training and education internationally is significant and crucial to economic growth and developing competitive economies. Many countries around the world lack the expertise, resources, and foundation to meet the workforce demands of a globally competitive economy.

Mission Statement

Giving people hope, skills, and opportunities for a better life.

Transforming Technical Education Systems in Egypt to Create Sustainable Jobs

The United States Agency for International Development (USAID)-funded Workforce Egypt project is transforming the technical education and vocational training (TVET) system to produce the skills needed for a globally competitive Egyptian market. This project creates sustainable jobs, especially for youth and females, and institutionalizes structural labor market reforms that can support workforce development now and in the future. Working with a variety of Egyptian partners, MTC provides technical assistance, capacity building, and training that transforms the quality and market relevance of TVET institutions and programs, strengthens private sector participation in workforce development, and improves the environment for skills development and employment.

Diversity and Inclusion

We're all different in many ways and that brings great strength to MTC and to our mission to change lives through education and rehabilitation. We value and appreciate the diversity of our workforce. Our inclusive culture allows us to form respectful, engaged, and productive teams. In the Workforce Egypt project, this culture extends beyond MTC employees to our partners and beneficiaries. More than 45% of staff are female. At MTC we celebrate diversity, equity, and inclusion at all levels.
