

A LEADER IN SOCIAL IMPACT

Making an Impact in People's Lives Since 1981

At MTC, caring about others, giving back, and making a social impact are the foundation of all we do. Since 1981, MTC has helped disadvantaged populations rise above their challenges to earn academic and technical training credentials and live meaningful, productive lives. MTC's core business in corrections, education and training, MTC Medical, and economic and social development is helping others succeed in life and prosper in their communities. MTC currently educates and trains more than 8,000 students and provides safe and secure rehabilitation and transition services to more than 30,000 residents. MTC also provides healthcare services to nearly 17,000 men and women throughout the U.S.

How We Help People

MTC is a leader in social impact by:

- Providing effective rehabilitative programs and services to men and women in the United States, the United Kingdom, and Australia to make their time in prison more productive and to reduce re-offending
- Educating and training America's underserved youth so they have the technical and life skills they need to find and keep good jobs
- Caring for the medical, dental, and mental health needs of the men and women in our care
- Connecting employers and schools in developing countries to improve the capabilities of local labor markets and grow economies

“ Job Corps gave me a platform to be empowered. They didn't give me a handout, they gave me a hand up. They allowed me to learn on my own, as well as challenged me to go further. ”

Kanela Kamahalohanuilai, graduate, Hawaii Job Corps Center

“ We have really good leadership here...They have a different vision about corrections. You can tell their mentality is to motivate people and get them back into society through gainful employment. ”

Randy Peterson, resident, Panama City Community Release Center
